Isaiah 54:13
13 All your children shall be taught by the LORD, and great shall be the peace of

"Weeping may endure for the night," the Psalmist David wrote, "but joy comes in the morning." In the case of most Americans, those nights stretched into very long years -- a nightmare from which the nation finally awoke last night with the astonishing news that voters rejected the continuation of the anti-faith, anti-family policies of Barack Obama. Instead, a nation, spurned by almost a decade of a radical liberalism, turned out with a vengeance -- electing Donald Trump in perhaps the most stunning political upset of the modern age. In a year of surprises, the ultimate outsider delivered the biggest, tapping into the frustration that pollsters didn't detect and liberal elites never took seriously.

"The forgotten men and women of our country will be forgotten no longer," vowed the president-elect, who not only overcame the opposition of the Democratic Party, but his own -- soaring to victory in spite of a biased media, his own personal baggage, lopsided polls, and a bevy of Hollywood stars. In disbelief, pundits watched the electoral map turn into a sea of red, colored by eight years of disillusionment with the president's extremist agenda. Fueled by massive turnout, the highest in history, voters delivered a stinging repudiation -- not just of Hillary Clinton's ultra-liberal agenda, but of the entire Obama era. Tired of the Left's contempt and unwilling to answer to pollsters, a silent majority, propelled the GOP to a victory no one saw coming.

But the night wasn't just a vindication of Donald Trump. It was also a validation of the evangelical movement, which once again overcame the media's narrative of division to deliver one of the most significant political messages this country has ever seen. In nearly every election cycle for the last 40 years, liberals have tried to bury a movement they wish had never been born. And last night, they learned just how impossible that prospect will be. Evangelicals, many of whom (myself included) backed other candidates during the primary, quietly assessed the perilous state of the nation and unified behind Trump in greater numbers than they had behind the last three GOP nominees. To the astonishment of everyone, Trump outperformed John McCain, Mitt Romney, and even George W. Bush-winning an overwhelming 81% of the evangelical vote. FRC was proud to play a crucial role in that surge, calling or knocking on the doors of more than 264,000 in North Carolina alone. We rolled through 20 states on our Values Bus with the message of what was at stake in this election, making more than 140 stops, and moving the needle on a vital bloc of voters who undoubtedly helped deliver Trump's win.

If the media had questions about the influence of the religious right, they were answered early Wednesday morning by the greatest coalescence around a Republican nominee in two decades. Turns out, the press had about as much success writing the obituary of the evangelical movement as it had predicting this election. (And that isn't much!) Anyone who traveled the country these last few months saw how values voters connected with Donald Trump, not because of your children.

Ephesians 6:12

12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

2 Chronicles 7:14

¹⁴ If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

1 Timothy 2: 1-6

I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

2 For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; shared values, but because of shared concerns over the damage a Clinton Supreme Court would do to our freedom. Combine that with targeted videos like ours, and it's no wonder the number of voters who ranked the Supreme Court as their most important issue soared to 21 percent by Election Day (and even higher among evangelicals!).

Making the night even worse for Democrats, the GOP held on to its majorities in Congress, giving Donald Trump the keys to a unified Republican government -- and ousting a handful of gutless moderates in the process. Of the Senate's True Blueers (members who voted with FRC Action 100 percent of the time), 14 out of 14 won -- a feat replicated in the House, where 139 of 158 also held on to their seats. With their hands on the levers of power, Republicans finally have the mandate they need to roll back the oppression of the Obama era, defund Planned Parenthood (both of which Congress has done before), defend the ban on taxpayer-funded abortion, repeal Obamacare, restore pulpit freedom, appoint pro-life judges, tear up the Iranian nuclear deal, invalidate Obama's executive orders, beef up our military, protect the privacy of women and children in bathrooms, and so much more. Truly, this is an unprecedented opportunity to turn back the clock on a radical administration that was on the cusp of driving America into the ground. Instead, it seems Barack Obama decimated his own party, putting Democrats in a significantly weakened position.

In states, where conservatives have made the most strides under Obama, the GOP continued its state-level dominance. The historic gains that started under this president continued, resulting in another major increase of Republican governors. By week's end, the GOP will hold at least 33 gubernatorial seats -- up from 22 in 2008. Winners included Missouri's former Navy SEAL Eric Greitens, Vermont's Lieutenant Governor Phil Scott, Indiana's Lieutenant Governor Eric Holcomb, Utah's incumbent Gary Herbert, and North Dakota's Doug Burgum (with Montana still too close to call). The celebration continued in the Kentucky legislature, which flipped to Republican control for the first time in 100 years. Iowa's Senate was next, leading the New York Times to mourn that, "At least 20 chambers were seen as highly competitive in the election, and a majority of those are now controlled by Republicans."

One of the biggest prizes of the night, however, was North Carolina -- which not only helped push Trump over the top but also beat back the narrative on H.B. 2, the state's Public Facilities Privacy & Security Act. While liberals continue to pump out phony argument that gender-specific bathrooms will cost Republicans their majority, nothing could be farther from the truth! If protecting women and children were as unpopular as the Left claims it is, why did the GOP add to their veto-proof majority in both chambers and reelect Lieutenant Governor Dan Forest (R), who was the driving force behind the law? While Governor Pat McCrory's (R) race is too close to call, there's plenty of evidence that his opponent's surge had nothing to do with outrage over H.B. 2 and everything to do with the shady decision of a Durham County judge to leave the polls open when it was clear that Roy Cooper (D) was significantly behind.

In the end, what we witnessed wasn't just the revenge of the deplorables, but the collapse of the Obama legacy. After the spectacular failures of Obamacare, the demoralization of our military, the explosion of lawlessness, tolerance of corruption, and obsession with social engineering, Americans finally have the opportunity to 4 Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6 Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.

Daniel 2:21

²¹ And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding:

Matthew 5: 13-16

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; rebuild the country they once knew. But the election is just the starting gun. Donald Trump may open the door to America's solutions, but he was never meant to be the solution. The true transformation of a society starts in the hearts and minds of men. And under an administration with no interest in continuing the eight-year war on the First Amendment, we may finally see what the Church is capable of. In the meantime, one thing about this historic uprising is clear: Americans are looking for leaders of conviction. And as last night's results show, they will accept no substitutes.

A NATION ON TRIAL

A Nation on Trial- America Stands Before God

Throughout the centuries, empires and nations have risen and fallen. Within the pages of Scripture, time and again, we are confronted with God's judgment revealed against nations that have turned their backs on Him. God will not be refused, rejected, or rebelled against; He is God, and He will be recognized and honored, or He will declare that nation guilty, and His judgment will fall. This book offers a verse by verse study of Isaiah Chapter One- an incredible example of "A Nation on Trial." America is "A Nation on Trial".

Printed in January of 2015, this is Dr. Youngblood's first publication of this year.

The Doctrine of Self Defense

The Doctrine of Self Defense-

An In-Depth Look at the Second Amendment of the Constitution, The Right to Keep and Bear Arms.

In this penetratingly cogent and thought provoking work, "The Doctrine of Self Defense", Dr Youngblood sets forth the case for "the right" of self-defense as originated in the Bible.

Citizens' right to keep and bear arms is not to be infringed. Our Bill of Rights is to be preserved and protected under the rule of law, and under the watchful eye of every patriot-citizen. This work is a solid contribution to the American patriots' arsenal of truth.

THE COMING GLOBAL ISLAMIC INVASION

Islamic plans for global domination should be a grave concern for all Americans. This book examines Ezekiel chapters 38 and 39 with the searchlight of truth that exposes the evil plan of Islam. God's Word warns us to be watchful, alert, and witnessing until Jesus returns.

"Allah is our god, the prophet is our guide; the Koran is our Constitution; jihad is our way; and death for the glory of Allah is our greatest ambition." -Muslim Brotherhood Credo.
